ICED TEA

Of all the summer beverages that are prepared for home consumption, Iced Tea is probably the most widely popular as well as the most refreshing.

Your favorite tea is brewed in the usual way—preferably by using a pierced silver tea ball so that the spent leaves can be readily removed from the pot instead of being left to ruin the fine flavor. Pour the tea into a serving pitcher, add sugar, and cool to the desired temperature. Serve with a slice of lemon to each glass, and add cracked ice if desired.

It is customary and proper to serve Iced Tea and drinks of a similar nature in a long thin glass. For stirring liquid refreshment served in this fashion a special spoon is required, having a long handle but with a bowl of about the same proportions as that of a tea spoon.

Unless these are provided the beverage must be served in a different manner than that prescribed by custom, and one's self or one's guests may be placed in an embarrassing predicament through awkward efforts to manage a spoon that is too short.

Many things besides convenience have contributed to the popularity of Iced Tea Spoons. They are long, slim, and graceful, ideally designed for use with any tall glass, and on account of their length, handy for other household purposes that will suggest themselves. They are not expensive, and the ones we have in silver plate would appear to good advantage on any table.

Your inspection of our assortment of Iced Tea Spoons is cordially invited.

GOVERNOR WELCOMES DELEGATES TO THE K. OF P. CONVENTION

MAYOR OF PORTLAND ALSO MAKES SPEECH—SESSIONS
OPENED AT MASONIC TEMPLE

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 1.—Delegates to the supreme lodge and Temple of the Knights of Pythias were welcomed to Portland today by Governor James Whitcomb and Mayor H. R. Abbe. Their addresses were responded to by Brig. S. Young, supreme chancellor, and Cora M. Davis, supreme chief.

After these ceremonies at the Masonic Temple here, the supreme lodge opened its sessions in the temple, while the supreme lodge of the Pythian Sisters opened their proceedings at the Elks temple, and the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, started proceedings at the K. of P. temple.

All the first meetings were brief, knights and sisters adjourning as soon as possible so as to prepare for the grand street parade, starting at 2 p. m. In this procession, scores of delegates, including the picturesquely attired members of the Dramatic Order, Knights of Khorassan, from every city of the United States, passed in review. The city was resplendent with Pythian colors and banners.

Passing the reviewing stand, the uniformed orders halted a moment to execute intricate drill maneuvers with the map and precision of trained troops.

After the parade the delegates attended banquets and went on short pleasure jaunts until 8 p. m., when Hon. Walter R. Ritchie, past supreme chancellor, was scheduled to deliver an address at the Baker theater on "The Pythian Lesson of Friendship."

Following a short session of all lodges in their headquarters tomorrow morning, a number of pleasure trips are on the program.

Pendleton's police force has been reduced from four members to three, May Officer Harry Edwards having retired. Frank Nash, who has been on the night force, has been transferred to the day force. There has been comparatively little activity in police circles since the first of the year, the records showing that there have been just about twenty-five per cent of the arrests made this year as during the similar period in 1915.

SIX MEN KILLED.

C. E. Winchell, 35, St. Helena.

Cause of Blast Unknown.

What caused the tragedy remains the secret of the dead. The only witness, J. W. Akin, quarry superintendent, of St. Helena, was luckily too far away to hear or see what was going on in the hole. He was walking toward the tunnel mouth, 199 feet distant, at the instant of the explosion. His coat was torn in tatters from his body. A jagged rock gashed his forehead, but he arose otherwise uninjured.

Superintendent Akin stumbled to the nearest telephone, a quarter of a mile distant, and summoned Coroner S. F. White and Dr. L. C. Ross. Within a few minutes automobiles crowded with citizens of St. Helena had reached the scene.

The quartet of road workers had just finished drilling a "coyote" hole—a "T"-shaped socket—and were tamping in the huge charge of explosives, when the death-dealing blast came. Just a few minutes before the explosion that hurled bits of anatomy over the hillside, Mr. Akin saw young Lewis come out for the dynamite and powder. The entire crew remained in the hole helping to set the charge.
